The main content area contains the following text:

The University's educational offer is essentially structured around bachelor's degrees, integrated master's degrees, master's degrees and doctorates.

The degrees comprise 180 or 240 ECTS, corresponding to 3 or 4 years in duration. The integrated masters correspond to 300 or 360 ECTS, lasting 5 or 6 years. Master's degrees comprise 90 or 120 ECTS, varying between one and a half to two academic years, and may exceptionally have 60 ECTS (1 year). Doctorates comprise between 180 and 240 ECTS and their duration varies between 3 and 4 years. All these study cycles can be attended on a part-time basis.

Besides these study cycles, the University also offers a wide variety of courses not associated with the awarding of a degree, particularly specialised training courses (training at the 2nd cycle level) and advanced courses of studies (training at the 3rd cycle level).

The University also offers several free courses and a Preparation Course for Higher Education (for those over 23 years old).

- ✓ select the option “Degree Conferring Courses”

The screenshot shows the University of Minho website. The header is dark red with the '50' anniversary logo on the left and navigation links (UMinho, Education, Research, Life and Well-being) in the center. On the right, there are social media icons and a search bar. Below the header, a breadcrumb trail reads 'EN > Education > Educational offer > Degree Conferring Courses'. The main content area features a large image of a rolled-up diploma with a gold seal. To the right of the image is a sidebar with the title 'Degree Conferring Courses' and three links: 'Bachelors and Integrated Masters', 'PhD degrees', and 'Masters degrees'. Below the image, a paragraph states: 'The University of Minho offers a wide range of courses corresponding to first, second and third cycles of studies leading to undergraduate (BA/BSc), graduate (MA/MSc) or doctorate (PhD) degrees.' Another paragraph follows: 'Bachelor's degrees (first cycle) comprise 180 or 240 ECTS, the equivalent to 3 or 4 years of study. Integrated master's programmes (courses that combine a bachelor with a master) have 300 or 360 ECTS, the equivalent to 5 or 6 years of study. Master programmes have 90 and 120 ECTS i.e. a period of study of one year and a half or two years, but some comprise 60 ECTS (1 year). PhD studies (third cycle) have 180 and 240 ECTS, corresponding to 3 or 4 years of study. All these study cycles can be attended on a part-time basis.'

- ✓ select the relevant option (Bachelors and Integrated Masters, Masters Degrees, PhD Degrees)

The screenshot shows the 'Bachelors and Integrated Masters' page on the University of Minho website. The header is identical to the previous screenshot. The breadcrumb trail is 'EN > Education > Educational offer > Degree Conferring Courses > Bachelors and Integrated Masters'. The main content area has a title 'Bachelors and Integrated Masters' and a disclaimer: 'The information contained in these pages does not dispense consultation of official documents.' Below this is a filter section with a year dropdown set to '2024/2025', and three dropdown menus for 'Scientific Area...', 'Regime...', and 'Unit...'. A search bar with a magnifying glass icon and the text 'Search...' is also present. A list of degree programs is shown, each with a right-pointing arrow icon and a 'More info' button. The first item is 'Bachelor in Accounting'. Other visible items include 'Bachelor in Aerospace Engineering', 'Bachelor in Applied Biology', 'Bachelor in Applied Languages', 'Bachelor in Applied Statistics', 'Bachelor in Archaeology', 'Bachelor in Basic Education', 'Bachelor in Biochemistry', 'Bachelor in Biology and Geology', and 'Bachelor in Biomedical Engineering'.
