Educational Offer

- Degree Conferring Courses
- Courses Not Awarding Degrees
- Faculty
- Employability Reports

The University's educational offer is essentially structured around bachelor's degrees, integrated master's degrees, master's degrees and doctorates.

The degrees comprise 180 or 240 ECTS, corresponding to 3 or 4 years in duration. The integrated masters correspond to 300 or 360 ECTS, lasting 5 or 6 years. Master's degrees comprise 90 or 120 ECTS, varying between one and a half to two academic years, and may exceptionally have 60 ECTS (1 year). Doctorates comprise between 180 and 240 ECTS and their duration varies between 3 and 4 years. All these study cycles can be attended on a part-time basis.

Besides these study cycles, the University also offers a wide variety of courses not associated with the awarding of a degree, particularly specialised training courses (training at the 2nd cycle level) and advanced courses of studies (training at the 3rd cycle level).

The University also offers several free courses and a Preparation Course for Higher Education (for those over 23 years old).
