Lending Service

The loaning of documents corresponds to the service of consulting documents outside the installations of the libraries and the request of publications is provided to each user individually. Appropriate user identification is required.

Almost all publications may be borrowed, with the exception of periodicals, reference works, audiovisual material and publications from the Special Collection Libraries, properly identified in the catalog bibliographic.

Students in the 1st cycle can request up to 10 books simultaneously and the loan for domiciliary reading is held for a period ranging between 3 and 14 days, according to the status of the publications.

The loaning period can be extended by request until the last day of the loan term and up to a limit of six successive renewals, unless another member reserves the item.

The return of publications out of time is subject to the penalties determined in the UMinho libraries regulations (article 18).

Requests for renewal of the loan term and requests for the reservation of publications that are out on loan may be required in person at the service desk or by telephone, by Internet (by logging in to the bibliographic catalog) or by email at: bibliotecas@sdum.uminho.pt.

Contacts and notifications from the library, sent via email, are always directed to the e-mail address assigned by the UMinho.

Regulations

The reading of the UMinho Libraries Regulations is important to the overall knowledge of functioning rules. The library regulations can be found in the libraries and via the web: http://www.sdum.uminho.pt/ > UM Libraries

10 useful information

1 Libraries access
After enrolment at the University of Minho, new students have access to the library services, such as borrowing publications, access to online scientific information, reading and study spaces, etc. For identification in the library users need the student card or another identification document. To use the computers available in the library and to access the personal loan area by Internet, it is necessary to use the login credentials assigned by the Academic Services.

2 Spaces to study
The UMinho libraries offer differentiated spaces of study and reading. The General Library on the Gualtar campus provides 610 reading and study places, including individual study carrels, group study rooms (3 of which open permanently 24x7). The UMinho library on the campus of Azurém offers about 400 places, distributed in silence, moderate noise and group study areas, also including 24x7 study rooms. Other specialized libraries complement the offer of places to study.

3 Books to discover
The UMinho libraries provide access to more than 441,500 books in several areas of knowledge and to other types of documents, such as scientific journals, CD's, maps, etc. In most libraries the collection is accessible in open shelves organized by subject, but some of these have part of the collection stored in enclosed areas, only available upon request at the service desk. All the existing bibliography can be searched online through the bibliographic catalog.

4 Reading outside
The vast majority of books are available for loan, and it is possible to order books from several UMinho libraries. The UMinho interlibrary service works between BGUM, BPG, BNP, BPM, BD and BCE. Users can request and return books at any of these libraries.

5 Science a click away
At the University of Minho network is available an important collection of scientific information resources in digital format, general and specialized in several areas of knowledge: bibliographic databases, thousands of scientific journals and publications and publications of professors and researchers of the University of Minho. These are key sources of scientific information for research.

6 Remote access
Most collections in digital format are only accessible on the University of Minho network. However, users can explore this universe of scientific contents outside the university. For that, users need to use the VPN Remote Access service, provided by the UMinho Communications Services.

7 Library training
At the beginning of the school year, SDUM promote presentation sessions about the UMinho libraries, especially dedicated for the new students of the university. Throughout the year, the library promotes other training sessions on various resources (also available upon request).

8 Library guides
To find out about the most relevant informative and bibliographic resources in your area of study, access the thematic guides. Users will find bibliographic suggestions, recommendations of databases for research, collections of journals and scientific repositories, dictionaries and encyclopedias, among other resources (section in Portuguese only).

9 Library support
At the UMinho libraries users will find staff available to provide information and support on library issues. The library also offer support via email, chat and phone, about library issues and bibliographic resources available online at the university. For questions that require further assistance we recommend scheduling personal attendance.
